

Robert Adams

Thank you for your several hundred communications regarding loyal concern in the inaccurate posting of our gentle Sage Robert Adams works being public domain, as the Sage personally copyrighted and archived his own unique experience choosing the ancient tradition of pure preservation for generations to come through his personally selected embodiment of purely devoted transmission. The Robert Adams Infinity Institute was established personally, and in great depth and care, by Robert Adams himself, filming much of his prophecies of his own Institute regarding the years to come, following his training and life long preparation in studentship and instruction with his selected embodiment in lineage to present his pure Message specifically for those generations to come. “Because your heart is pure.” as stated in The Golden Tribute to his daughter. Here with transparent eyes filled with love he predicted his grandchildren and great grandchildren teaching his Pure Message in a ‘more advanced age’ in which people are better able to comprehend the Message of Love, Compassion and Humility.

Truth is of value in pondering accuracy. Personally copyrighting and documenting his own words of decades, he is well known for his wise discernment of consistently refusing any and all requests for utilization of his name with any other individuals in any manner whatsoever, personal advertisements for retreats, teachings, works, workshops, satsangs or any attempted personal unrelated public interpretations. Although the use of Robert Adams name is attempted to be used to imply studentship, false associations claimed by audience guests or strangers, have required non profit legal counsel to request his Institute now post factually documented, accurate correction. In sincere apology for being unable to personally respond to your loving concerns through the years of individuals suddenly appearing with clearly unrelated interpretations of this Masters Teaching in both person, values and understanding. Those spending their lifetime in studentship as well as later audience guests experienced this Sages vehement refusal to graft ones name to his own, which immediately occurred only after his leaving his form.

“In this world the darkness will always be threatened by the light, but the light will always prevail. Do not fool yourself. While on this earth you are under the laws of karma. There is a world of utter peace, beauty, Truth, All Pervading love, but you must surrender your human existence and all of your thoughts, words and actions to this in order to experience it. This radiance, this unimaginable Beauty is who you really are. Yet you cannot do whatever you wish, and rise to a higher awareness.” Robert Adams

The Pure Truth

The transmission of pure truth in its original preservation emits the seeker to enjoy ‘the fruits of his efforts’.

“This teaching is not for everyone. It is all pre ordained. Begin at the beginning. This world is like the third grade. People are still learning not to hurt one another. One who Knows has only loving- kindness for others. Respect for the dignity of each person. His actions and words are pure.” Robert Adams

The purity of preservation is an ancient tradition originating in the Way of Illumined Way-showers throughout time. Why would a Sage copyright his own materials? Why has this tradition of the Teacher forming his own embodiment of transmission for generations to come continued in so many traditions throughout the world, from Sufis to Hindus, Mystical Westerners to New Thought origins?

Unfamiliar to the West, Robert Adams honored and followed the Ancient Way, in which ones own experience of Truth was precisely and purely conveyed in their own words by their own lineage, discernment in spiritual stature, and wisdom of the Sage, preventing unrelated radically different interpretations and more personally related presentations. This ancient tradition of the Teacher leaving his Teaching to his own established vehicle, in which his presence resides, is reflected in well established groups such as The Vedanta Society, Self Realization Fellowship, and many others. An extremely 'mainstream' householder of over four decades residing in the American suburbs, well known in local humanitarian and charity groups, Robert Adams refrained from the alternative and popular spiritual offerings of the time, associating with no group or organization regularly seeking his presence, instead preferring to spend his life among the innocents of this world, assisting international groups to aid homeless children, devoting himself completely to traditional suburban family life, and a few in the community providing spiritual help and assistance.

Rising before dawn and counseling hundreds by phone weekly, he provided an example for modern Westerners of service, illumination and practical compassion as tools for unfoldment. His striking emanation of ethereal consciousness and sheer love, continues to transform lives, reminding one of our true heritage of Illumined living. His constant refusal to numerous requests to use his name in association with theirs, in written and spoken word, or to recognize them as being of a stature to present his message, is well known, respected and consistently observed by Robert Adams students internationally for four decades, appearing stating such in The Golden Tribute.

In enjoying the tender beauty and touching precision of his words that begin and end in the call to loving kindness as 'the easiest manifestation of your true nature', one finds in diving deeper into the flood of rich transcendence, that Robert Adams classic adherence to traditional 'classic' spiritual mores, values and principles, emphasizing compassion as the leading force, differs widely from more generalized, 'everything is allowable' personal interpretations resembling ones own preference than the Teachers words.

As a non profit group the factual documentation in the wise discernment of the decisions of the Teacher himself, including his fully complete, several personally signed documents of copyright throughout the years, his honoring of the ancient traditions of lineage preservation, and the final establishment of his own Infinity Institute is evident as supernally discerned by the founder himself, unrelated to others desires. Robert Adams own uniquely joyful, compassionate and genteel personal experience differs in great format from the experiences of others, particularly those attributing his person to an image unrelated to his own benevolence, values and life, and no personal affiliation by others was ever attempted in any form during his own lifetime due to his well-known refusal, honoring the precepts of spiritual integrity and legal requirements. Clearly, the sudden grafting of others name unto his in postings, sites and personal events confuses innocent and pure hearted seekers assuming that he recognized these individuals and their personal stature in some way, opening their hearts and trust to sources entirely unrelated to Robert Adams Message. In unswerving dedication, joyful unity and unaltered commitment, his students worldwide thank you for your graciousness, ceaseless loving kindness, loyalty and happiness in unswervingly manifesting the Truth of brotherhood, right action and loyalty to the Master Teachers own instructives.

Robert Adams own Teachers he selected, spent years of renunciation and surrender in monastic living, eight to ten years of selfless meditations and practices in renounced hermitages, and a lifetime of personal studentship with Robert Adams, with a selected few in daily rare Inner Circle participation in his private feasts, celebrations and talks.

Divine Discernment- Ponder the Clear Truth of Accuracy, Fact and Trustworthiness

Ponder the source, the intent, the origin, the trustworthiness, of ones information in accuracy of Truth, as a tool of pure discernment in ones life in this journey.

“Correct Discernment accelerates progression. Remain true to the laws of correct living. Cling to the Yamas and Niyamas in all circumstances.” (ancient code of fundamental spiritual laws) “ This has been my experience. All Teachers leave their own experience to their lineage.” Robert Adams

“The West thinks spirituality is three hundred dollar retreats. Becoming ‘big’. I do not give three hundred dollar retreats. This has nothing to do with finding God.”

Robert Adams

“Abide in Goodness.” Robert Adams

“Live gently and benevolently in this world. Each word, action, creates karma or alleviates it.” Robert Adams

Perhaps the most poignant example of this was the great Ramana Maharshi, the great Saint first introduced to the West at large in symbolism in the vintage film The Razors Edge, was pursued, harassed and finally called to court by an individual claiming to own his own ashrama amid complex aggressive accusations. When interrogated regarding this persons claims of studentship and ownership, the great saint Ramana responded,

“Anyone can say that they are my student.” Ramana

“Keep away from the vile things, vile angry people in this world. This will affect your consciousness. You will know truth by one thing. The love. The kindness. The compassion. The happiness. The joy. For this alone is your true nature.” Robert Adams

The Pure Truth

Fact: As all Robert Adams students, his writings, and recordings confirm, at no time did Robert Adams ever declare his works public domain, nor distribute his transcripts freely to the public, as all of his original students are well aware. He requested a donation for each transcript in the ‘class’ as he referred to his talks, and did not ever ‘freely distribute worldwide’.

All Robert Adams Talks, audio tapes, transcripts books and videos have been copyrighted by Robert Adams, Nicole Adams, Blake Warner and the Infinity Institute in five separate copyrights that can be viewed under Silence of the Heart / Robert Adams US Copyright Office. Should the revered Teacher have decided he wanted to give full permission to all of his works, in rational observation he clearly would not have made a decision to copyright them and instruct his lineage to protect the work from being distributed by those unknown to the institute especially those that have no respect for this gentle teacher.

Myth:

It is acceptable and devoid of legal repercussions to fabricate the details of a spiritual teachers life and create documents even if the contents are not accurate, fabricated, and the content is not verified with those who lived with him for up to forty years.

“In this world, do not become a doormat. Perform Right Action in accordance with the Yamas and Niyamas of Truth. Do not cultivate hate. Refrain from vile environments, people and such in this world. Retain the pure heart of a child for this is who you are.”

Robert Adams

It is our honor, privilege and humble devotion to be of service in continued decades of warm brotherhood and unceasing joy, ‘the divine connection of brotherhood in this path’ with all. Thank you for your tender hearts, clear thinking and deluge of loving-kindness.

In Tribute of Humble Gratitude to The Beloved of the Sage Mrs. Adams

All gratitude, honor and devout loving reverence to the sole Beloved of the Sage for over four decades, His cherished wife whom hand in hand, with a shining joie de vivre and wise nurturing compassion beyond the scope of imagining, provided sanctuary, guidance, clear spiritual ethics and the joy of the journey to so many, in selflessness. Thank you.

Required Non Profit Disclaimer in Update: Per your ongoing complaints of contrary and vastly unrelated teachings, lectures, individuals attempting to use Robert Adams name to garner false public affiliation with him, arising from obscurity as “Robert Adams Student” wise discernment clarifies that Robert Adams Teaching or person is non affiliated, presented nor related to any individuals attempting to utilize his name in public affiliation with their own teachings. He did not recognize nor authorize any individuals in any manner or stance to “pontificate, teach, represent debate, or interpret” his Teaching, words, books.

Per your inquiries for truth in accuracy and clarification for proper understanding in pondering, persons appearing following Robert Adams videos or claiming affiliation with him in charged for retreats, which he refused to participate in, and events, were never recognized in any manner whatsoever by Robert Adams, and fall into the accuracy of being complete strangers to Robert Adams, or an audience attendee for less than four years of his over thirty years of presenting his powerful, transformative Message.

While tenderly personal and warm, Robert Adams maintained the traditional Sage Student format and relationship in which students honored him as such, (See the Sage Discourses and Silence of the Heart) and vehemently refused association with any individuals seeking him out to promote them selves as ‘teachers’.

Wise discernment in modern American unfamiliarity with traditional requirements of spiritual teachers to include personal standards of rigorous pure spiritual training, pure lineage, character qualities of surrender, loving kindness and in depth comprehension of the depth of inner surrender, transcendence and utter humility, allows one to affiliate themselves with pure and spiritually mature teachers of stature, service and good will.

“An angry person attracts an angry teacher. A peaceful person attracts a peaceful teacher.” Robert Adams

Robert Adams had three main groups, in which the first was the sole group in which he had personal students. This group consisted primarily of families, East Indian householders, and University students well immersed in teachings of Illumination on a fundamental, deeply dedicated level of integration. The Inner Circle consisted of lifelong students who were solely invited into his private residence for feasts, celebrations, family holidays, dialogues in his rose gardens, and counsel. Following, he only emerged once or twice a week for Talks to his remaining two groups, and did not include personal studentship. Dr. Warner, Melanie Warner, Prem Devi, and others constituted personal studentship. The gentleman Mr. Novick of premier studentship in Sedona Arizona continued his satsang with beloved Mrs. Adams in close devotion to her following the Sages leaving of physical form, and did so for 8 years following, currently a deeply dedicated Robert Adams student and Institute brother.

Required non profit Disclaimer: Watkins Publishing has forwarded an accurate, kind and thoughtful communiqué of gracious apology to The Robert Adams Institute stating their retraction of the chapter included in the book Teachers of the One, after stating their stunned surprise and innocence in intent at the results of their own investigation in that the interviewed individual that approached them stating in worldwide advertisement immediately following Robert Adams leaving form, devoid of his permission or recognition, as being ‘in the lineage of Robert Adams’, was accurately never a student of Robert Adams in any manner, being entirely unknown to all three of Robert Adams student groups, stating that this person is unknown to Robert Adams. Watkins accurately gracious confirmation followed documented hundreds of complaints from global life long established Robert Adams students received unceasingly following this publication. Dates, events and the teaching conveyed is unaffiliated and contrary to the thirty years of Discourses of Robert Adams on primary classic life Topics, in which student Marlene Jones has documented such discourses in honor of the original teaching and the Message of her lifelong teacher. Additionally Robert Adams former Sedona satsang host Mr. Novick offers clarification in his student response as being present in confirmation. “ It is a disrespect to Robert Adams to attempt to portray his teaching when he denied anyone to do so.” D. Novick

“If the end result of Illumination is Love, Compassion and Humility what if we were to do that now?” Robert Adams
